Knights quest

Fire-breathing dragons terrorize the countryside, evil hordes assault the castle, and the Kingdom must be defended... Legend foretells of a champion of the people who will rise up to defeat these enemies, restoring a lasting peace to the inner realm. Are you such a champion? Do you have the courage to test your skills against a battle-hardened enemy and merciless winged creatures from the outer cliffs? The search for this shining hero has begun...

Your quest for valor begins in the briefing and vesting chambers, where you receive instruction in your craft, pledge yourself to the Code of Honor, and vest up into suits of laser-equipped armor. These heavily fortified rooms are supported by 3D props of large wooden beams and adorned with the colorful coats of arms and majestic flags from honored families across the kingdom.

Enter the Castle to begin your quest amidst a maze of mortared stone and brick walls inlaid with heavy oak. Airbrushed murals along the perimeter outline grand archways into adjoining chambers and show scenes of the raging battle along the Castle battlements and turrets. Massive chandeliers have fallen from the rafters during the turmoil, encumbering the walls and littering your way as you traverse the stone fortress.

Beware the caged dragon at the fortification's center, frequently roasting those that come too near. Make your way to the pair of citadels strategically located at both ends of the fortress, as these are the last strongholds of the kingdom. Boldly defend them with honor and prove your worth, for restoring peace attains timeless fame!
