

ADVENTURE QUEST

SPARETIME FAMILY FUN CENTER

Syracuse, UT

March 2009

The Theme Factory created 3,300 square feet of themed Adventure Quest space for Sparetime Family Fun Center's laser tag attraction, which was one in a mix of attractions including bowling, indoor and outdoor mini golf, batting cages, go karts, and a large redemption arcade.

The Briefing and Vesting rooms were themed as ancient antechambers featuring cracked stone walls, large groupings of 3D stone blocks, columns of carved stone blocks, and large hand-carved medallions. Inside the Laser Tag Arena we created a ruined city of stone-like walls featuring glowing carved symbols, with hanging vines and foliage throughout, stone Toltec statues standing guard, a large stone mask with lighting and atmospheric effects, and much more.

The entrance to the attraction was themed with our Stone Archway, which included weathered sandstone columns, recessed panels, a large carved medallion atop the arch, and hanging foliage. This facility is truly a site to see, and now guests can enjoy an adventurous journey to an ancient stone city in the heart of the jungle.
